

Agnes Hoggarth born 1796
compiled by Ron Hoggarth March 2007
sister of Henry born 1806

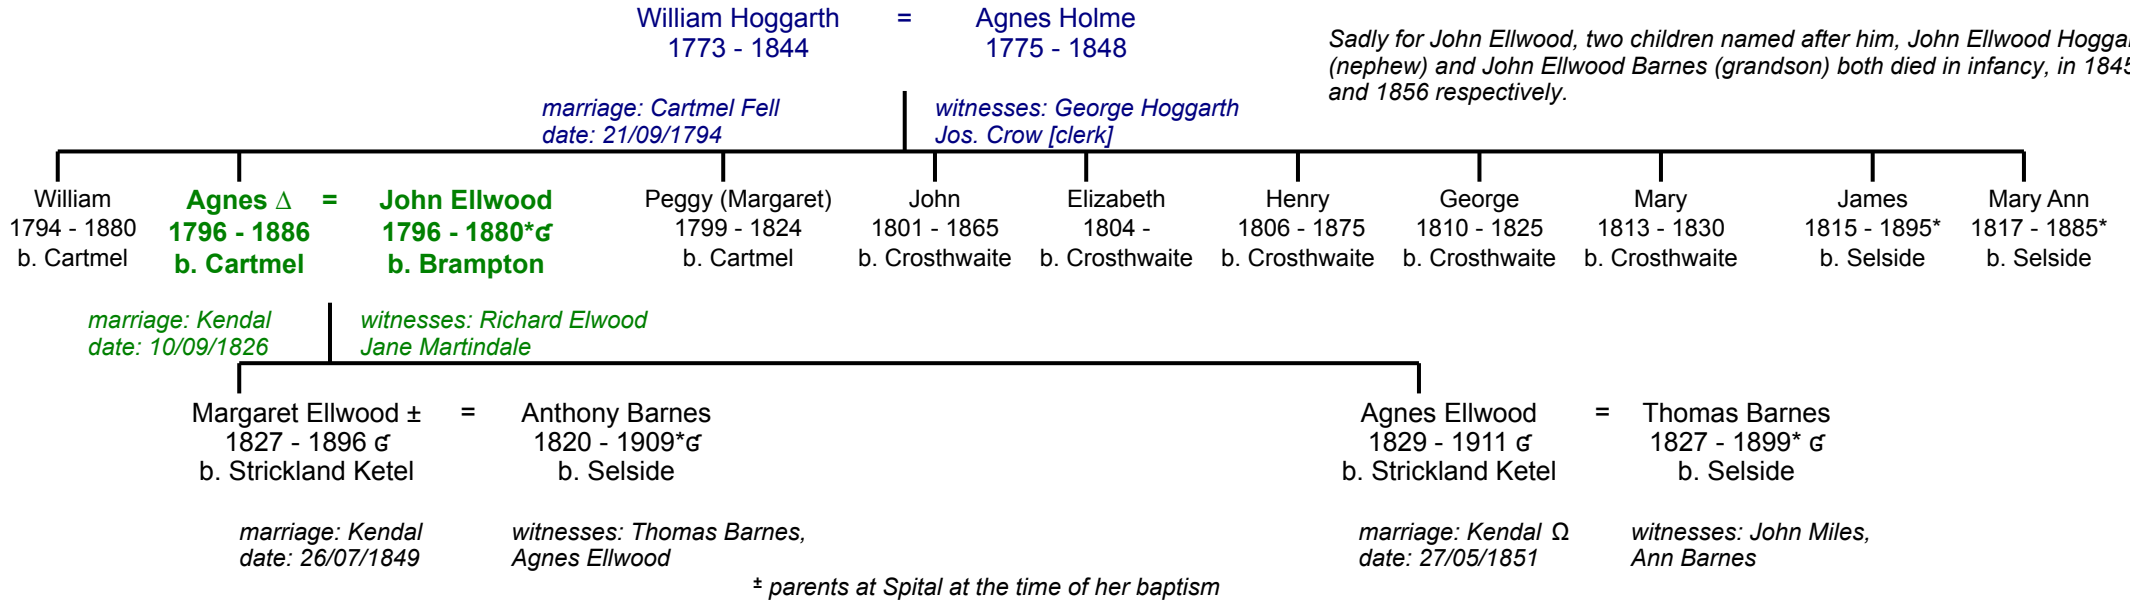

A Grieving Grandfather

Agnes' husband, John Ellwood, was the Uncle of Mary Farrer - Mary's mother, Isabella Ellwood, was his sister. In 1841, John and Agnes have a farm servant, William Hoggarth, at the Hollins. This is likely to be an illegitimate son of Agnes from before her marriage.

In the 1861 Census Henry and Mary's daughter, Agnes, and James' daughter, Agnes, (both named after their grandmother) are House Servants to Anthony and Margaret Barnes at Garnett House, Bowstone, Strickland Ketel. Margaret Barnes is their married cousin.

John and Agnes Ellwood who live nearby, at Hollins, are their (Great) Uncle and Aunt. They also had a daughter named Agnes who married Anthony Barnes' brother, Thomas.

Sadly for John Ellwood, two children named after him, John Ellwood Hoggarth (nephew) and John Ellwood Barnes (grandson) both died in infancy, in 1845 and 1856 respectively.

Δ It is likely that Agnes had illegitimate children before her marriage to John Ellwood - see Kendal Borough Hoggarths

Tony Cousins writes:
 "The Skelsmergh Vestry book has a November 1820 entry requesting Robert Dockray should write to his brother near Carlisle to enquire after John Graham a weaver at Black Dykes in Kirklington, Cumberland who had a child affiliated upon him by Agnes Hoggart in Skelsmergh who had not paid expenses or maintenance towards the child in spite of a March 18, 1815 order.

There is a copy of the order that named the child as John born on Feb 11, 1815 to Agnes Hoggart single woman.

On March 5, 1823 there is a letter from a John Bell respecting John Hoggarth, a bastard child of Agnes Hoggarths by John Graham, about John being bound as a parish apprentice to him.

On November 12, 1823 it is stated that Agnes Hoggarth daughter of Wm Hoggarth now living at Garth Row was with child and she was ordered to quit the township. I take this to mean she had been living elsewhere for some time and the Vestry was anxious that she should not be allowed settlement."
